

Coleman Supportive Oncology Collaborative Adolescent and Young Adult Symposium

AGENDA

DAY 1

May 7, 2021

How to address the challenges of caring for Adolescents and Young Adults (AYA)

AYAs include anyone diagnosed with cancer between ages 15 and 39. Typically, cancer at this time of life can profoundly affect successive life transitions from school, to work, learning to adult, building a family, or starting a career.

Cancer can put all of that on hold.

This opening session outlines the overall challenges AYAs face in 2021, how working collaboratively improves access to supportive care resources; and communication strategies that play a crucial role in initiating comprehensive care with young people.
